(2026)

Thus, in London, was the crowning of our Queen. But long before the Queen was due to leave the Abbey, the head of the great procession was moving off. In front were Regimental Bands - and then came men of the Services and Police Forces of the Colonies... Here, in Trafalgar Square, led by four troopers of the Household Cavalry, follows a contingent from Canada..(BRING UP)

In the carriage processions of the Prime Ministers - Sir Winston and Lady Churchill. (BRING UP) Now at the Abbey - the carriage-procession of the Princes and Princesses of the Blood Royal; and the rain is coming down in earnest. The procession of her Majesty the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret. (BRING UP) And lastly - her Majesty the Queen, with the Duke of Edinburgh. The long solemn ceremony inside the Abbey - moving and beautiful though it was - must have been a great ordeal. How splendidly has her Majesty sustained it. She shows not the slightest trace of fatigue as she faces the long drive back to Buckingham Palace. (BRING UP)

Far ahead - at the gates of Hyde Park - the men of Australia include V.C's and soldiers back from Korea..(BRING UP)

Further ahead still, march the men from many other parts of the Commonwealth, Southern Rhodesia, Pakistan, Ceylon. (BRING UP)
