THE GRAND NATIONAL 1953

As well known as the Racecourse itself is a Thorn fence with a natural brook on the far side, which forever links the name of Captain Becher, a renowned rider of his day, with the Grand National Course at Aintree. Becher's Brook annexed this title in 1839 when 'Lottery' won from a field of seventeen runners, including 'Conrad' the unfortunate mount of Captain Becher. An artist's impression of the Christening of this world renowned Brook is the title of the picture depicted on the Race Card Cover.

PROPOSED

MOTOR RACING CIRCUIT

It is now officially announced that plans have been drawn up to establish a motor-racing circuit at Aintree. It is hoped that this will be the finest in Great Britain, if not the world, so that the public will have motor racing at Aintree of a standard as predominant as is the Grand National in the steeplechasing world.

The stands and other facilities here will provide a unique standard of accommodation at motor race meetings, with the entire track of 3 miles visible to the public, a feature available at no other motor track. The plan overleaf shows the situation of the track in relation to the existing racecourse, from which it will in no way detract, and the sanction of the Jockey Club and National Hunt Stewards has been given. The plan already has the approval of the Town and Country Planning Authorities and those of The Lancashire County Council and West Lancs Rural District Council and now awaits the necessary building licence. Motor-racing will take place at intervals during the summer months on Saturdays only. Contrary to rumour, there is and never has been any intention to have Sunday racing.
