NEW YORK.

IS INTERVIEWED.

Semi view H.G.Wells & Journalist Brown seated on couch. CU H.G.Wells. SOUND EFFECTS. Brown: What do you think about the situation in Europe?

H.G.Wells: Well I don't think if America goes on exercising the moderating influence as she seems disposed to exercise now, I don't think there's any immediate danger of a big-scale war in the next two years. After that nobody can tell, but I don't think the situation is going to break before then.

Brown: That is no World war, Mr. Wells.

Wells: No World war, I think there is too much apprehension of an immediate collapse in civilization, for the next two years the sort of things that is going on will continue to go on, but there won't be a first class catastrophe.

Brown: How about the visit of the Duke & Duchess of Windsor to America, Mr. Wells?

Wells: "Oh ohhhhh I'm not a gossip correspondent.
