Grosvenor House guests at Foyles Luncheon had the good fortune to hear the River Plate Hero, Admiral Harwood, now promoted an Assistant Chief of Staff. Lieutenant Davies, who 'disposed' of the St. Paul's bomb. Even sea-fights have a lighter side, as the Admiral related:

HARWOOD SPEAKS:

"An 11" shell from the "Graf Spee" came in through the port cabin in Captain Woodhouse's 'Ajax'. It wrecked his bathroom and then went through 'X' turret and through my golf bag and finally ended up in my bunk where it burst and among many other things that it wrecked it also wrecked my bathroom. Well a day or so later when we received the signal that it was the honour of H.M. King to present to myself and Captain Woodhouse the K.C.B. and C.B. I heard one sailor say to another "Blimey and they ain't got a blinkin' bath between 'em!"
