Unescorted, a British cruiser takes further reinforcements for the R.A.F. who are helping Greece. The voyage across the Mediterranean is without incident of any kind. On arrival a great welcome is given by dockworkers. Coinciding with this arrival, the funeral takes place of the first Air Force casualty of the R.A.F. operating in Greece - a rear gunner is given a full military funeral at which the heads of our missions, Major General and the A.O.C. are present. Greek military bands escort the cortege. The funeral takes place in a corner of the British cemetery in Athens.

Rolls 1, 2 and 3. R.A.F. on board - leaving Alexandria and arriving somewhere in Athens.

Roll 4 Green mountain troops marching in Athenian street on way to front.

Rolls 5, 6 and 7 Funeral of first R.A.F. casualty in Greece.

Exclusive (except for local man on street cortege).
