

1. OPEN FOR SUPER: GASOLINE BON.NZA

2. Take an ordinary fence post-hole digger---dig---got a pump---and you've got a pure gasoline well. Newly discovered deposits of underground seepage from a nearby refinery started the backyard oil boom. Pits of thirty square feet are leased for $800 for one year. The wells are only 20 to 30 feet deep and one man with five pumps made $1,000 dollars his first week. The gasoline is sold back to the refinery from which it leaked. It's almost perpetual motion.
