SV Lawrence Olivier speaking:

"Vivien and I are both very proud indeed to be invited to the christening of the United States bomber. We hope, as you know, to form a Canteen in London, in Piccadilly, if not equal, as good as we can make it or as near and as likeable as we can make it to the one in New York which is ^{both} very good and very successful. All the stars that we have got on stage, screen and radio, have promised to give us their support and we will give you the very best entertainment that we possibly can. In any case, with such an inspiring namesake, I hope we will not shame you too much. Thank you." (Applause.)

SV Miss Vivien Leigh:

"I hope that the "STAGE DOOR CANTEN" will be a great success, that you'll all have a lot of happy times there, and we shall meet there, and ^{I'd} ~~I would~~ like to wish that the boys who fly in this plane will have the greatest good luck always, in fact, I hope that you ^{all will} /always ~~always~~." (Applause.)
