REGISTERED U.S. SHIPMENT.... DECEMBER 12th 1944

Mail for the fleet. Navy postmen shape up a record holiday delivery for American soldiers scattered over the seven seas. Pouched and routed for the far flung battle stations, the sacks are loaded on the mail ship for delivery at sea. A destroyer alongside... all set for these missives from home. No matter how tough the weather Santa Calus' mail goes through. Delivered right on the deck by breeches buoy... the mailman doesn't ring twice out here... They come and get it. Ferns scaping man... what's better than ward from home.
