ULSTER FETES KING AND QUEEN.

History was made at Stormont when His Majesty addressed both Houses of the Parliament to make royal acknowledgment of the war effort of Northern Ireland. The visit to Ulster mixed the formal and informal. ~~In the Botanic Garden Park~~ <sup>The</sup> King and Queen, and Princess Elizabeth, attended a garden party of 5,000 warworkers, <sup>in the Botanic Garden.</sup> The men and women who have toiled in the linen, parachute factories and the famous shipyards for nearly six years met the royal guests in friendly converse.

The journey to Londonderry was made aboard the patrol yacht ~~Hiniesta~~ <sup>Hiniesta along</sup>. ~~The royal progress was warmly cheered all up the river Foyle.~~ Close on sixty surrendered U-boats were passed on the way.

(bridge) Awaiting Their Majesties at Londonderry a large crowd gathered in Guildhall Square. Here the King and Queen were introduced to Lady Montgomery, mother of the Field Marshal. Then a ~~march~~ <sup>parade</sup> past of some of the men and women who made Northern Ireland's ~~applied~~ contribution to the defeat of Germany.
