

~~MEMORANDUM~~ PRINCESS ELIZABETH OPENS GRAVING DOCK

At the port of East London Princess Elizabeth performed her first ceremony of the South African visit. Her own standard flew at the mast head.

His Majesty's South African ship, the frigate Transvaal broke the tape and the ceremonial opening of the graving dock was complete. It will accommodate ships of up to seventeen thousand tons.

At Bonza ~~Bay~~ Bay the royal sisters took an hour off from official duties to enjoy a canter on the firm sand.

It was one of the many opportunities for private enjoyment the royal visit will afford.
