LION LEADS CHIMP QUITE A DANCE

Tamba the chimp was looking after the baby lion Simba just like ~~a~~mother in the strangest animal friendship in America. And what mother could have better qualifications for this part of the business. But of course all babies take liberties and then they have to put up with what they get. Poor Simba must have thought no lion ever had a more exasperating playmate.... Terribly undignified to have your tail pulled, but what can you do about it?...~~X~~ They're the best of friends really. Let's hope they stay that way, for ~~the~~ <sup>the monkey's</sup> sake.
