

RUGBY: ENGLAND BEAT SCOTLAND

20 Scotland kicked off at Murrayfield and the keenly awaited match for the Calcutta Cup was begun. England playing in white. Good judges of the game soon spotted that Scotland, superior at forward, might pin down the English back divisions. But after 12 minutes England opened the score; John Currie kicked a penalty goal.

47

15 minutes after that goal England increased their lead. Scrum half J. E. Williams just got over near touch and Currie added the goal points. ~~in~~

69

Scotland's first points came from a penalty goal kicked by Arthur Smith.... If only Scotland had scored with other penalties (they had many chances) the result would have been very different...~~X~~ But it was England, again through Currie, who scored the next penalty.

88

Then ~~the~~ ^{Scotland's} new left-centre, G. D. Stevenson, scored a fine try.... Tom ~~McClung~~ McClung kicked wide, so ~~unfortunately~~ England won, 11-6.