

GERMANY HOLDS MODERN AIRPLANE CHAMPIONSHIP

Model aircraft enthusiasts from all over Germany competed in the national championship at Kassel. A Constellation airliner model shows how ambitious constructors have become. A Delta wing, actually jet-driven.

A big sensation was the helicopter, deservedly a prize-winner.... Even radio-control isn't beyond the model-maker's ability.... Perhaps most ingenious of all - a released parachute. But no, pride of place surely went to the Flying Saucer...~~X~~ No arguing about that. And nobody can say we're just seeing things
