Spain's last general election resulted in a victory for the left wing and a consequent release of political prisoners. According to information a good many ordinary prisoners pretended to be pair political and started a riot, and this is it. New all is quiet.

WOMEN'S BOAT RACE.

For the first time Oxford and Cambridge ladies rowed a boat race together, instead of starting separately and being judged on time.

The spirit of competition got the girls in a big way and each one tried to row faster than all the others. Oxford were the winners by half a length.

G-MEN.

The Department of Justice at Washington is the headquarters of the G-Men where they practise filling gangsters with remorse.

But the golfer has invented a shooting machine too. If you can get time off from the office that's all right, but if not here's a machine that'll play much better than you do. Entry height religious Entry on would be the than you do. Entry height height thing the part thing'll be a mechanical golf widow.
