WATER JOUSTING.

Every year on the River Loire France holds a water tourney. It was something ~~of~~ this style that Lancelot used when he sought the favour of Guinevere of old, but just because these Frenchmen are using a lance it doesn't necessarily follow that they've been mucking about. In this game each knight bets his opponent that he won't be the first to fall in the water. One of them cheated --- he fell in the boat.
