

290
DOG SHOW.

The Kennel Club's 75th Annual Show --- all the myriad breeds known to dog lovers were here on their best behaviour for the big prize of the canine world. / What's that funny thing?

And this is not a bone. It's a leather exhibit at the Shoe and Leather Fair --- And this is London's idea of how a lady should be neatly shod. / They had a gadget here for judging how you walk. If you have housemaid's knee or varicose veins it affects your walking and this is recorded on a chart. / Everything is recorded on a chart.

AMERICAN FOOTBALL.

American Football gets really under way and intercollege games are in full swing. / The two sides are Colgate and Duke --- and 25,000 spectators watch them go. Watch the rapid strategy of these young men --- watch the accurate passing and strong tackling --- even if you don't appreciate the finer points of the game, it's one with plenty of thrills. / Now the Duke side gets ready for a great effort to finish the game, and they break away. Whatever it is they're doing, they've done it.

LEEDS LIBRARY.

The Princess Royal, the Duke of Devonshire, , The Earl of Harewood and many other distinguished people were present when the new £120,000 library was opened at Leeds University by the Archbishop of Canterbury. The library, in a beautifully-designed circular building, has ~~several~~ accommodation for 1,000,000 volumes.

145