

DUTCH ROUNDABOUTS.

In Volendam, harbour and fishing village of Holland, they held a country dance and fair and the highlight was the roundabout. You might think this giddy speed would make them ill --- but no, they're ill-prooff.

SNOW IN DENVER.

First snow of the season --- in Denver, Colorado. This is the preliminary to the blizzard season and is only a mild attack --- just a few trees blown down --- practically nothing.

GERMAN THANKSGIVING.

Annual Thanksgiving --- half a million peasant farmers flocked to Buckeberg mostly wearing the picturesque peasant costumes. They were treated to a mass display --- farmers and their wives being entertained by fighting aeroplanes and high speed tanks. . . . . the mostpopular form of amusement in this day of ultra civilisation.

FIREMEN'S BALL GAME.

Practice made easy for these firemen --- firemen's football played with a hose instead of football boots and a small balloon instead of a ball. The principle is much the same as ordinary football --- you have to get the ball into the other side's goal. As in ordinary football, the game's the thing --- win, lose or drown.
