

307

MADRID.

Madrid in a state of siege shows the effect of constant bombing by insurgent ~~planes~~ planes that fly over the Spanish capital by day and night. Ancient buildings, palaces, galleries containing priceless art treasures - ---- all these ~~buildings~~ bear witness to the marksmanship of the rebel bombers. / Citizens walk among the ruins which only a short while ago were normal stately buildings like those we know in London and our own big cities. Now there is food shortage --- petrol shortage --- leaking gas and burst mains --- this, in short, is Civil War.