

BEARDS. IN JAPAN.

316

We are very glad to be able to report that beards are returning. At least, that seems to be indicated by this picture from Japan. Kissing a man who has no moustache is said to be like eating an egg without salt, so kissing a man who has a beard must be like eating a horse with the saddle ~~left on~~ ^{what do you think of this} ~~Here is~~ a nice two-piece creation -- ~~and here's~~ a winter model suitable for town or country. ~~and~~ Here is ~~the Tokyo champion with~~ the world's longest beard. When he goes upstairs to bed he had to walk backwards.
