HOME FLEET.

The still morning air at Chatham is broken by the xamblexof shudder of mighty markineryx engines --- as the Home Fleet leaves on its Spring Cruise. Portsmouth too resounds to the activity of massive men of war --- marching out of the calm shaltered waters, into the surge of storm-swept coasts Axxboardxfor ROYAL FAMILY.

20

On the anniversary of the death of our great and beloved King George V we pay a tribute to his emory. After this short space of time his kindliness --- his ability to mingle the manner of the common man with the dignity of the monarch --- brings him in memory more securely still to the company of the greatest kings, We renew our loyalty to, the present king --- King George VI and his happy family. We offer him again our sincere good wishes in the arduous dutires of his reign --- may it be long and prospero It is understoof that the Duke of Gloucester will be leaving the Army in order to flevote more time to assisting his brother in affairs of state. The Duke of Kent, as ever, is busying himself in the traditional service of the royal family. In a tour of social centres for the unemployed he gave us these wharming delightful studies His Royal Highness is very much at home with the little children of the needy, as he moved from one club to another. o ready amile As the father of a boy and a girl, he appeared to be quite at ease with these simple people.