

Our flying cameraman over the Thames Valley brought back these pictures of what used to be the countryside. A dismal prospect, especially coming as it does upon the heels of last year's dismal summer. Pity the riverside householder. He spent the summer by the fire instead of on the river, and the river spends the winter on the fire.

America tells a flood story of unrelieved grimness --- with the mounting waters the toll of casualties grows higher too. Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee --- overflowing rivers have caused untold damage, spread famine, sickness, brought in their train looting and even fire. America does things on a big scale --- biggest of all, the floods.

JULIANA.

Happy days in Poland. Princess Juliana of the Netherlands and her cheery-looking consort Prince Bernhard are spending their honeymoon winter-sporting in the Carpathians. The Princess has become an ardent disciple of the art of ski-ing, and although not yet very proficient she is obviously enjoying herself very thoroughly
