

BOXING.

325

New York --- Amateur night at Madison Square Garden, and four thousand well-fed patrons of the noble art turned up to watch the hopefuls. Here's Joe Lorne fighting John Stewart, and both are getting the worst of it. Now a change of colour gives a symphony on the black notes --- Abner Powell and Nat Wright. In a hit and miss game that's more miss than hit they're trying to fan each other to death.

GUSTAV AND LEOPOLD.

Belgium --- King Gustav of Sweden paid a visit to Leopold III King of the Belgians. From the North Station the two monarchs old and young drove to King Leopold's Palace amid cheering crowds.

HURST PARK

Hurst Park --- a fine afternoon and softish going --- ideal weather for steeplechasing. Brilliant weather and brilliant riding made a change from foggy days, and casualties were few and far between. Summer has no thrill like steeplechasing.

CALIFORNIAN BULL FIGHT.

California --- as they say when it rains in Hollywood, this is most unusual. Hot-blooded toreadors have come from Mexico to fight bulls. That's a change from hot-blooded film stars going to Mexico to get married. This is a new sport, and all you need is plenty of nerve and a cast-iron shirt.
