

COUNTERFEITERS.

One of the biggest departments in America --- the Bureau of Engraving and Printing where Uncle Sam makes millions and billions of dollars. But Uncle Sam is not the only one who makes them --- his Secret Service men are always busy tracking down the counterfeiter. Every trick at the command of science is called upon to spot the bogus money. Our cameraman happened upon this actual incident on New York's East River --- a suspect on the run hurled his printing plates into the engulfing waters, but they were fished up. This clue enabled them to track down three counterfeiters and fifty thousand dollars in bad money. For them --- the big house. For the phoney ^{dollars} ~~dough~~ --- the story ends in flame. In 1936 they burnt ~~a million and a quarter but Uncle Sam has still has in circulation 6 billion dollars for pocket money.~~

FAROUK.

Marseilles --- Seventeen year old King Farouk of Egypt arrived to begin a four month tour of the Continent. With the King ^{were} ~~was~~ his Mother and his young sisters. Greeted on arrival by the Egyptian Ambassador the boy monarch took train for the winter-sports playground. Before long we'll have a picture of him on a pair of skis.

MEN'S FASHIONS.

New York --- Make way ladies --- and let us see what the graceful young man will wear in this year of grace. For the evening they have rainbow hues and pleated tails --- They can keep them. Then there are morning and afternoon styles, such as any gigolo would be proud to wear. And when the weather turns warmer, your boy friend may turn up like this. Don't say we didn't warn you.
