TRAINING SHIP.

But as long as there is sea there will be seamen --- so by way of compensation comes also from America the story of a visiting training ship. She hails from Finand --- a windjammer with a crew of officers, men and cadets. In spite of the sea's dangers there will always be youngsters to whom the siren's call of adventure x is irresistible.

DEATH OF SIR AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN.

Austen Chamberlain --- famous members of a fmily of famous ax statesmen. His district bearing stamped him inevitably as a product of the old school of politician, and his manner was as distinguished as his reserve achievements. He had held many offices, including that of Foreign Secretary, and it was in 1925 that he signed the Treaty of Locarno on behalf of Britain. Sir anster had also been Chambeldor of the Emchequer, Leader of the House and Secretary for India. In latter years he had taken a less active part in Government although he remained in the House of Commons as member for B Birmingham West.

Shis Repenting Training Courses was Countered at Banon with religion ceremy conductor to the actual of Datter Beaken, prin to the actual Country Country Country Country Country to the actual of the President to the Training of the President