

ATHLETICS.

The last Indoor Event of 1937 season at Madison Square Garden
 ----- the Knights of Columbus Games. 16,000 spectators watched ~~watched~~ the American cracks San Romani and Glenn Cunningham battling to win this last event --- the mile. These two with Gene Venske are three of the greatest modern milers ~~and the eleven laps are full~~ ~~of incident.~~ Cunningham pulled ahead to win in 4 minutes 8 7/10th seconds. He has won the event five times in succession and now he may retire. So much for the headliners. But the ordinary man among the New York Millions takes a less strenuous form of exercise. They call it bowling and 22,000 took part in a mammoth tournament. Slow motion shows how easily you can miss 'em --- if you're clever enough. But to prove that he can also hit them -- LAUNCH OF THE POMPANO.

California --- a fish with three hundred feet and thirteen hundred tons, the Pompano was launched at the Mare Island Navy Yard.
 Splashing the camera as she went, Uncle Sam's latest armoured fish went on her way to make a bigger and better Navy.
 XXXXX HORSES IN MOAT.

London --- Every morning in the Moat of the Tower of London police horses train for the Coronation. They are growing accustomed to working among troops and military bands.
