

DUKE OF KENT .

343

His Royal Highness the Duke of Kent attended the Central Hall Westminster to present medals and other awards for gallantry to ~~these~~ <sup>these</sup> most gallant of all our civil workers. The story of our shores is one long serial of daring and heroism --- and here in some small degree these qualities met their reward. From Flamborough, ~~to~~ Aberdeen, Torbay, Hythe and Dundee, ten English and Scottish life-boatmen chatted with the Duke --- men whose duty had been so nobly performed throughout the gales of winter.

LORD SOMERS' CAMP.

His Majesty the King as Duke of York introduced a scheme of camps for boys of all classes during the summer, and now in Australia Lord Somers, a former Governor of Victoria, has the same idea with great success. In sunny weather and an atmosphere that is even sunnier --- that's Lord Somers, that was. The Commonwealth of Australia is very democratic and Neptune is even more so. Thus for the morning shave ~~they're~~ their aristocratic patron ~~goes through something of an ordeal.~~ That was Lord Somers again. The Camp ends up with ~~King Neptune and his~~ with a back to the water movement. Where's Lord Somers now? Oh, him? He's drowned.

In New South Wales there's water-sports ~~too~~ too --- but here they manage to keep on top. The tussle of the day is between North Shore, <sup>Sydney</sup> and Mosman --- Mosman are the crew nearest the camera and they have ~~made~~ a habit of winning the state championship. Again to-day, Mosman passed the post to win.
