

CROWNS.

349

Not the least important preparation for the Coronation is the work being carried out by Garrad's ~~inxxxxxxx~~ on the crown of her Majesty the Queen. ~~Here, too, the similar work being done for the Princess Elizabeth and Margaret Rose.~~ Jewellery, gold and platinum to the value of many thousands of pounds are handled by ~~expert~~ experts with all the loving care of craftsmen --- and the jewels include that wonder gem --- the Koh-i-Nor Diamone. When these final pictures were taken the work was still unfinished --- left to right Princess Margaret Rose's --- ~~Her Majesty's~~ the Queen's and Princess Elizabeth's. Coronation preparations are still going ahead in ~~xxxxxxx~~ London's great thoroughfares --- day by day the workaday world is being transformed. And now at Great Fosters, let us watch the rehearsal for the pageant of the Coronation Ball, helping to provide a National Theatre. Lady Oxford portrays Good Queen Bess, while ~~xxxxx xxxixix~~ others in graceful procession walk through the pages of history. I'm not sufficiently well versed in the classics to know exactly what this is, but I think it's the ancient Greek ceremony of calling for the empties. But if you want to see how coming events cast their shadows before --- the children of Wenlock School gave a performance representing the Coronation.

sheet

333
300
260