

H.M.S. DURBAN.

370

A visitor to the Mersey --- H.M.S. Durban stopped at Liverpool to pay its respects to the city. It had a clean up and was then open to visitors. You will notice that most of the visitors are feminine --- perhaps they've dropped in for a few hints on how to cook. One of the most interested parties was that of the Lord Mayor, and the Lady Mayoress took a gunnery course. ^{Oh!} A big gun is very dangerous, whichever way you look at it. A LAUGHING.

And one of the big guns of the operative world on a visit to Sydney, made the acquaintance of the local laughing birds. **/
