

A.P.HERBERT.

374

London --- As Parliament rises for the summer recess Mr A.P.Herbert takes a rest from the Matrimonial Causes Bill. When the wedding bells have died away --- when the first romance of married life is no longer novel --- what then? Cruelty, incurable insanity, and desertion --- Mr Herbert held that these should be grounds for divorce. By sheer persistence this humorist with a serious purpose has accomplished his victory in Parliament.

TOMMY FARR.

New York --- Tommy Farr starting serious training before his world title fight with Joe Louis the holder. The British and Empire champion is in fine fettle and full of confidence as he undertakes the job of his life --- he has a better chance of winning than any British boxer in the last two decades.

BERNARD SHAW.

Malvern --- at the festival in the lovely heart of Worcestershire Mr Bernard Shaw attended a garden party. There was plenty of tea and cake and even sunshine, but the wit of the sage hid behind a cloud. G.B.S. had no word to ~~say~~ G.B.Microphone --- ~~say~~ well, look at the competition!

MOTOR CYCLE SCRAMBLE.

Bagshot Heath --- there was a big entry for the Bayswater motor cycle scramble, which is another name for riding up a hill like the side of a house. In view of the terrifying nature of the course, it is surprisigg how few came to grief.
