MANNEQUIN MODELS.

When you look at a poster of a pretty girl advertising something, have you ever paused to wonder what she's like in real life? She is one of the huge army of ~~advertising~~ lovelies who earn their livelihood by being photographed and getting paid for it. On Broadway they say that five years is the limit of a girl's career, and they have to keep fit to keep beautiful. The modern ad. girl is serious minded, and thinks only of her ~~career~~ <sup>job</sup>. She doesn't like men. She keeps her complexion by doing healthy work down on the farm. An apple a day keeps the doctor away, and these girls are afraid of being bothered by a ten thousand medical students. Life for them is ~~real~~ <sup>frank</sup> and earnest. Even the battle of fruit is done purely for exercise.

~~But the~~ battle goes on.
