

QUEEN AT THE HOLBORN EMPRE.

London --- Her Majesty the Queen took Princess Elizabeth to see that famous Christmas play -- Where The Rainbow Ends. Poor little Margaret Rose had to stay at Home owing to a slight cold. So you see, even a Princess may shed an occasional tear through disappointment.

HINDU WEDDING.

London --- the first Hindu wedding ever celebrated in a register office here --- Prince Yashwant Singh was married to Kumari Kashmiran. On the eyelids of the bride was a cream made from crushed mother of pearl . It cost £10.

WATER CYCLES.

California --- a race-meeting --- and it looks like damp going. The course is heavy, but in a race like this you don't have to be first past the post to catch the judges' eye. Our roving cameraman sent us this item without saying who won or what they were racing for. Perhaps you can guess why he took it?
