ENGLAND V IRELAND AT DUBLIN.

England came out in white, Ireland in green, when they met in fine but boisterous weather in an exciting Rugby match at Dublin. The going was fast throughout, and early in the game Ireland were in trouble. At half-time, England led with 25 points to Ireland's nil. In the second half, both sides took some time to find themselves, but England ran out winners, scoring 36 points against Ireland's 14.
