478

But this was not a Test Match
it was a game between

AUCTION OF CRICKET BAT.

Gaumont-British cameramen looked in at a cricket match at Highgate between well-known authors and actresses. They secured exclusive pictures of an interesting auction. Alderman Sidney Bolsom- ex-mayor of St Pancras- put up for sale a cricket bat signed by Princess Marie Louise, Don Bradman, and the two teams. Sir Robert Whaley Cohen was outbid by Lady Pentland to whom it was knocked down at 12 guineas.

But this was not a Test Match

Another cricket match ended with an auction — at Highgate a bat signed by Don Bradman was sold by auction.

fetched twelve guineas.