

TERRITORIALS.

483

These territoriald in camp are just a small proportion of thousands of young men who have given up their holidays to the spirit of service. With artillery, wireless and other equipment they go through all the phases of war without doing any damage, but they're building up the efficiency of our island defences in their spare time.

We owe them a debt of gratitude --- the idea of training and service on holiday is a very fine one

TOWN CRIERS .

The Town Band turned out at ~~Exmouth~~ in Dorset for the ~~annual~~ Contest of the Town Criers. The winner was Mr Abbott of Lyme Regis. He was presented with a cup, full of champagne. Oyes?
