

HAIR FASHIONS.

New York --- The city of skyscrapers sends a fashion note for the hair. They're using clay now, and hairdressing becomes pottery. Poets used to sing of locks of gold, but now it's going to be locks of china; woe betide the clumsy young man who ~~knocks~~ ~~off~~ the handle. Not content with that, the modern coiffeur makes the really smart woman look like a farmyard.

KING LEOPOLD.

Paris -- King Leopold signed the distinguished visitors' book by the Tomb of the Unknown Warrior. The King of the Belgians was in France to attend the unveiling of a statue to his father, the late King Albert. After the ceremony, French and Belgian soldiers marched down the Champs Elysee.

COIN TESTER.

Sydney --- the Bank of New South Wales has a new device for testing coins, and they say it never makes a mistake. A thousand pounds go through each hour and it counts them, sorts them and throws out the bad ones. Good ones go into the bags but the bad ones suffer the most frightful indignities. It's bad all right! It's bad ~~no~~, it's darn good!

MOTOR CYCLE RECORD.

Camden, New South Wales --- Arthur Denior, champion Australian motor cyclist, made an attack on his own record of 123 miles an hour. Timing apparatus is working --- and off he goes! Then back like a silver streak! And he did it..... With 128 miles an hour he made a new Australian record.
