ATHENS HYGIENE.

Athens --- the Greek capital has opened an exhibition of Hygiene. The first visitor of note was Prince Paul, who was received by M. Metaxa the Prime Minister. One of the exhibits was a model football game, though what that has to do with hygiene is hard to trace.

CAPTAIN BENNETT.

London --- the Duke of Kent at Londonderry House presented the Johnston Trophy to Captain D.C.T. Bennett in recognition of his flight across the Atlantic in Mercury, the top half of the Composite Plane. The Guild Reliability Trophy was presented to Captain Duggan and others for eight flights between London and Paris in all weathers.

PREMIER'S PILOT DEAD.

Redcliffe Bay --- Death in harness has overtaken Commander E.G.L. Robinson, who crashed near Portishead. It was Commander Robinson who acted as pilot to the Premier on the historic flights to Germany.

CHAMBERLAIN.

London --- there was a lucky cat outside No. 10 Downing Street when the Premier came out with Mrs Chamberlain. The cat stayed in town, but Mr and Mrs Chamberlain drove to Victoria where they were met by Lord and Lady Halifax. Mr Chamberlain and the Foreign Secretary were leaving for Paris for discussions with M. Daladier and the French Government. Munich, the Anglo-American Treaty and the Anglo-Italian Treaty were on the Agenda.
