

TEST MATCH IN JOHANNESBURG.

524

We get you right into the atmosphere at the start for the first Test Match in Johannesburg. England won the toss, and the South Africans took the field to await the opening pair --- Edrich and Gibb. Edrich again did not come off, but Gibb scored 93 in the first innings and 106 in the second. Paynter also scored a double century --- 117 and 100. Record breaker Hutton was unable to play through injury, but Hammond knocked up a 24 and a 58. The match ended in a draw.
