SKI-ING AND BOBSLED.

It's winter carnival time in Hanover, in those United States, ~~and boys and girl students from the U. S. visit to Department for the occasion.~~ Three hundred young ski-enthusiasts <sup>from the Universities</sup> on the snow-clad slopes that used to be the playground of the Indians. By night the glistening hills are alight with college boys and girls from all over America; hundreds of miles they came ~~here~~ to ski with each other; there must be more in it than that. In Europe too there's winter sport --- but this is the tougher kind. The four-man bob-sled championship at Garmisch --- and watch them go. On with the race --- if one man falls off he watches them go. Is there no justice? Watch a spill in the next breakneck rush. They're off --- no, they're not. Yes they are --- a glorious mix-up. Push off, Bill --- I'm all right!
