

KING AND QUEEN.

549

The interest of our King and Queen in the welfare of their people is a very real thing --- the well-being of the poorest among us is a matter of concern to the whole royal family. Their Majesties paid a visit to the L.C.C. Housing Estate on Hackney Marshes --- and of course it was a great day for the residents. In one informal call there was a meeting with Mrs Felgate and with her daughter and grandchild --- ~~it~~ ~~this was an occasion that will certainly live long in the memory of that family~~

The following day the king went north to inspect the Royal Ordnance Factory near Chorley. Lord Derby was waiting to greet His Majesty, ~~who signed the~~ ~~minutes~~, At Newton Heath the King inspected one of the aircraft factories and met some of the men who are working to make Britain supreme in the air.
