

WASHINGTON (contd.)

570

So that was the Washington welcome; later the President's yacht took our King and Queen down the Potomac River to Mount Vernon -- to the tomb of George Washington. His Majesty laid a wreath upon the simple grave of the first President, and afterwards with the queen made a tour of the home of the most famous American.

America's present day Government was ~~was~~ honoured in the great building of the Washington Capitol, where their Majesties were accorded another fervent greeting. And inside the great building of America's Parliament, Congressmen met the King and Queen. Later the link that was forged between the two nations in battle over twenty years ago was remembered at Arlington Cemetery when the King laid a wreath upon the tomb of the Unknown Warrior.... the soldier from Over There who laid down his life in France. ~~With the King is General Graig Chief of the American General Staff.~~

~~There was a... of... King~~
