

ROYAL WEDDING.

Italy --- a royal wedding in Florence, attended by the King and Queen of Italy. The bride is Princess Irene of Greece, and the bridegroom the Duke of Spoleto --- a cousin of the King of Italy. Members of the British Royal Family attended in the persons of the Duke and Duchess of Kent, for the bride is a relative of the Duchess.

CORONATION WINDOW.

Winchester --- the Duchess of Kent on her return to England went to Winchester Cathedral to unveil the Coronation Commemorative window. Later, Her Royal Highness drove to the Royal Hampshire County Hospital to open the new Nurses' Home. Donations were received in the form of purses, one of which had been collected by a crippled inmate of the hospital. Then --- the presentation of the key and the opening ceremony.

BICYCLES.

Chicago --- the latest thing in bicycles takes the citizens of the big city out into the fresh air for the week-end. Bicycles made of any old thing will do, as long as they have wheels. It's a home from home, but a woman's work is never done. The only change of scenery Mother gets is a new patch on the kid's trousers.

WATER SKI-ING.

Long Island --- You've seen the water-ski experts before, but these are the experts among experts. Dazzling skill on two bits of board --- clearing the crested foam at 40 miles an hour. Watch the champion go into a dry skid, and shave the seaweed off the pier.
