

WHERE PEACE REIGNSS

In Britain it's very difficult to think of anything but war..... but a change of diet is good for everybody, so here is a news section from America. ~~The annual struggle~~ The annual ~~struggle~~ Anglo-American ~~struggle~~ for the Wightman Cup was played at Forest Hills --- and once again America won --- this time by five matches to two. But although beaten, Britain went down only after a tough battle --- Kay Stammers in her match with Alice Marble put up a particularly gallant show. Alice Marble won by 3 - 6, 6 - 3, 6 - 4 --- and so America kept the Wightman Cup.

In the realm of golf --- Dorothy Kirby of Georgia contested the Women's National Title against 20-year-old Betty Jameson of Texas --- and the course on which they met was in Connecticut. Dorothy had a little trouble with a water-hazard but thought nothing of it and laid the ball nearly dead. Continuing with the fireworks Dorothy played a chip --- and scored a bulls-eye. But in spite of all that she didn't win --- 3 and 2 victory gave the Cup to Betty.

Yes --- it is a pleasant change to get away from war news once in a while. You'll see that the ~~struggles~~<sup>arts</sup> of peace are still practiced in America --- this is the contest to find Miss Greater Chicago. Six thousand girls took part, and part ~~of the test~~ of the test was to get wet and like it. With the Air Force so much in the news, you really ought to describe these models as streamline fighters --- ~~or perhaps~~<sup>at least</sup> interceptors. Anyhow, Ethel Lobdell was the winner --- a Spitfire with very little camouflage ~~for the heavy bombers.~~

Now for the heavy bombers
