

GENERAL WEYGAND.

France, no less than Britain, has a great Empire over which to stand guard. General Weygand is in command of the French forces in the Middle East.; he has been inspecting army divisions and attending parades of the French colonial army.

2

H.M.S.SPHINX

H.M.S.Sphinx was the first British warship to be lost as a result of enemy air attack. She was a minesweeper. Her bows were damaged by enemy bombing, and while being towed to port the next day, H.M.S.Sphinx sank in heavy seas.

R.A.F. SNOWFIGHT.

Relaxation for the R.A.F. in France. A battle in the snow. And some of the boys are taking their winter sports where they find them. Look out there!

and the flying squad!

~~New real pictures of a firing squad.~~

ALTMARK.

First pictures from Jøsing, where the Altmark shelters in a Norwegian fjord. After months of dodging and hiding she lies exposed before our cameras --- and her Nazi captain also. We know full well that our whole Navy is working day and night --- but the Altmark story shares the present headlines with ~~the Graf~~ that of the Graf Spee.

3