

DANUBE

Latest pictures from somewhere on the Danube show the great middle European waterway still frozen up. As Germany obtains a great part of its oil supply along this ~~great~~ busy river the situation when the thaw comes will be interesting to say the least of it. But at present the ice in many places is a yard thick.

SYDNEY FREIGHTER.

Result of a midnight collision in Sydney Harbour --- two merchant ships came together with such force that the damage looks more like the after effects of an earthquake. In one part of the ship where the crew used to live and work it is possible to row a boat. In clearing up a mess like this the great problem must be to know where to start.

ARTIST PERRY.

Mr Albert ^Perry is one of the great number of artists who have never had a picture hung in the ^{Royal} academy. But Mr Perry is a man of ideas, and he has arranged his own exhibition by hiring a team of sandwichmen to walk slowly through the streets of London. with his pictures. this is his favourite dish, fish.

~~It seems a funny idea.~~ by showing his pictures like this Mr Perry gets more people to look at them in one day than would see them in a whole season at the Academy. And ^{that} after all, ~~that~~ is the milk in the coconut.
