R.A.F.

Weather reports have not been published in Britain since the beginning of the war ~~99-----~~ but weather reports are of the utmost importance to the R.A.F. And here is the Meteorological Flight about to take off.

The Flight Lieutenant and Warrant Officer share the task of collecting this weather knowledge....and they go up once each every day. ~~In all weather they are on duty.~~ It is the pride of the R.A.F. they proudly claim that they have not missed a single scheduled flight for over thirty three years.

On one day during the cold spell at the beginning of this year one of the flights was made in ninety degrees of frost. It's just a little sideline in the work of the Royal Air Force. But it's a sideline that means a great deal in the lives of thousands of pilots and crews.
