

RODEO.

666

Some of the best riders in the wild and woolly west are in this rodeo. There's Tom Mix of the Movies and he's quite a rider. ~~These boys aren't just out there for a ride. You bet he knows he's got to stick it unless he wants to be stuck. He has a rough ride but he's a winner though it's likely to be a spill when dismounting.~~ Out here, at New Hall, California- most of the boys are successful, a tribute to the long list of bronco riders in the bucking show. Some are tossed and not content with tossing the cowboy, the vicious animal wants to gore him too.

RANCHERS.

Over 400 visiting ranchers went through a traditional ceremony at Santa Barbara when they rode again like the Spaniards of old. Once more these hardy Southerners made their annual trek through the sparkling countryside of California. It's an exhilarating journey- the old horseback way- and the equally old stage coach way. Then there's another way- by buckboard or would you call it navigation? When these swashbuckling men of the saddle ride through the smiling Californian land, it's an old custom that lives again in the hearts of these gay descendants of sunny Spain.
