

GENERAL BROOKE.

Lt-General Sir Alan Brooke has been appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Home Forces in Britain, in succession to General Ironside. Sir Alan Brooke has been given the acting rank of General
CZECH.

A new Government for Czecho-Slovakia has been organized in Britain. Under the leadership of Dr Benes, who greeted the new members, these early victims of German aggression will work to restore freedom to their country and their people.

U.S. TROOP CARRIER.

America tightens up her National Defence. National Guard infantry are practising transport by troop-carrier plane. These pictures come from the Union Airport in Burbank, California. It's quite a thrill ^{nowadays} to see a picture of troops and be able to know where they are.

MORRAN VENUS?

This is one of the American industries that have not suffered as a result of the war. They're still turning them out by mass production and they're pretty much the same design as last year's model. The winner was Carolyn Nansen, with cup. But before the contest was over the judges became intoxicated with so much beauty.
