SORTIE

All over Britain large bodies of troops are undergoing intensive training in the sort of warfare that may break upon us any day. Tactical exercises embodying the functions of the army in the event of invasion....The swift arrival by lorry and the sudden attack. This is a gas-raid, and the A.T.S. have taken shelter.

Even in the face of the mass of machinery hurled into the Battle of France by Germany, British troops worked miracles of heroism. Only --- there weren't enough of them ~~and they had~~ ~~the right equipment.~~ That handicap has now been largely overcome, and we shall see that in the end it is the quality of the fighting men that will turn the scale to victory!
