

Mr WILLKIE DEMANDS AID FOR BRITAIN.

Mr Wendell <sup>Willkie</sup> came to Britain to see things for himself. Now he has returned to America to work in the cause of British victory. ~~Think~~ Listen to part of his testimony before the Foreign Relations Committee in the ~~Washington~~ Senate.

2

Meanwhile, America pushes on her own preparations in case war should spread to that continent. Marines at parachute practice over the Naval Station at Lakehurst. They bale out at seven hundred and fifty feet.

One day we may be able to show you pictures of British paratroops; At the moment they're still on the secret list --- kept as a surprise for the enemy.