

MR. ROOSEVELT SIGNS THE LEASE AND LEND BILL.

Spotlight on the White House - the Chairman of the Committee of Bills takes in the Lease and Lend Act for Presidential signature. The battle of the Atlantic is on - we've heard a lot about it. But we don't always realise that in some weeks as many as four of our ships are being sunk every day. That is a serious thought out of its great strength

The American Navy has already handed over to Britain many ships for us to use in the fight. Aeroplanes are coming across the Atlantic to Britain in ever increasing numbers and we shall receive all the war supplies we need for victory. That's what it means when Mr. Roosevelt puts his signature to this historic bill passed by the Senate and Government of the United States. The President used six pens - he will present them to Congressional Leaders. They signed the death warrant of Nazism.